So you want all-day shade without blocking natural light and breezes?

It's yours with the Archline Pivot Arm Awning System from Uniline. Designed to deflect heat and glare while maximising light, ventilation and privacy within the home, Archline fits most windows and projects to various lengths.

Backed by Uniline's five-year components warranty, both systems come with manual or motorised operation. The ultimate in 21st century convenience, the motorised system comes with wind and sun sensors that automatically adjust the awning according to weather conditions. No need to rush home if it's blowing a gale – the system will close the awning for you.
